DAVID WILLIAMSON'S

THE BIG TIME

18 JANUARY - 16 MARCH 2019

WORLD PREMIERE

WELCOME

---

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

It is always a pleasure working on a new David Williamson play and particularly one that deals with issues underlining the make it or break it world of entertainment. THE BIG TIME has at its core loneliness, desperation, jealousy, ambition and betrayal while creating a world of likable characters that make us laugh. Quite an achievement given the themes. The play also has a sense of hope, struggling to make itself heard over the noise of ego. David is very good at finding the heightened essence of the world, at once allowing us to laugh and sympathise while recognising the truths of who we are. I feel my job as director is to do two things; cast really well and secondly; let the words fly. David Williamson has, as ever, done the hard work already. I hope you enjoy THE BIG TIME and here's to a wonderful 2019!

Mark Kilmurry
Artistic Director

SYNOPSIS

Celia and Vicki were best friends at drama school, but the game of life has dealt them very different hands. Celia is a high profile soap star earning ridiculous amounts of money and the requisite harbourside views. Meanwhile Vicki is scraping by in gritty, critically acclaimed roles in independent theatre. When Vicki proposes they collaborate on an ambitious new film project, it could be a big opportunity for both of them to prove their mettle in the industry. But are Vicki's motives as well-intentioned as they seem, or will jealousy rear its ugly head?

WRITER'S NOTE

In the entertainment industry there's only one place all the hopefuls want to be. The Big Time. If they make it, they become wealthy, but perhaps even more importantly they are finally treated with respect.

If you're a struggling writer or actor who hasn't made The Big Time no one reads your scripts, no one asks you to audition, or if they do you get to say two or three lines before you're moved on. Being near the bottom of the entertainment ladder is one of the most miserable existences on earth.

That's why the competition to make The Big Time is so fierce. Beneath the surface of the friendly smiles actors exchange with each other, lies the realisation that only one of them is going to get the role.

Given that I've inhabited this world for nearly fifty years now, and that two of my sons are NIDA acting graduates, my daughter was an actors agent, and my wife was a drama teacher and a theatre critic, I know that in the industry that creates fictional drama, the real life drama can be intense.

And that's what made it irresistible to write about.
